A NOTABLE MOVEMENT.

THE KWANGTUNG MERCHANTS VOLUNTEER CORPS.

Chan Lim-pak, commander-in-chief of the newly organized Merchants Volunteer Corps of the Province of Kwangtung, in his speech of acceptance when notified of his election to the important office, said, in part, as follows:

Fellow Citizens and Comrades:—We are responsible citizens of one of the largest, most resourceful and enterprising provinces in South China. Our province is occupying a unique and peculiar position on this side of the Pacific, and in our North, East, and West Rivers we have a natural channel of communication not so favoured in other parts of the world. Notwithstanding our favourable position, the principal port of Kwangtung Province, the city of Canton—only enjoyed an export trade last year of little more than $100,000,000. Our lack of prosperity has been due undoubtedly to the intestine struggle in our midst and the subsequent growth of the outlaw movement.

We are now aware of the reign of terror in our cities and the prevalence of brigandage and piracy in our districts. We are tired of the frequent interruption of inland traffic, the drop of our trade, the inability of our raw materials to reach their proper market, the loss to our investments, the still rising high cost of living to the common mass, and the lack of employment to the people.

These sad conditions cannot go on, and we do not intend to permit them to continue much longer. We do not intend to allow the port of Canton or any other city within our province to degenerate or to let our citizens here or anywhere starve themselves and their families. We therefore, organize for the salvation of our province and our country, for self-defence, and for the promotion of our mutual welfare.

To-day we have formally completed the organization of the many local volunteer corps in Kwangtung into one central body. This body, jointly or severally, will supplement the regular police forces of the provinces in the preservation of peace and order. The gathering of delegates from more than a hundred local corps in the most important cities and towns of Kwangtung for this united effort has been epoch-making not only here but also in this great Republic. The attendance has been greater than first expected.

The people of Kwangtung expect much from this organization. The new Merchants Volunteer Corps of Kwangtung has no other outside object or purpose than to be a non-partisan military unit for local self-defence against lawlessness, to preserve peace and order, and to suppress piracy and brigandage. Experience has taught us that the people must rely on themselves and that we must ourselves extract from the militarism now crushing us downward more and more.

Foreign trade and interest in our midst have suffered, no little on account of the lawlessness on the part of a certain element, and we wish to assure all concerned that the great mass of Chinese are friendly to the world at large, and they are coming to see that the real sentiment will be expressed by the people themselves and not by the few who are misrepresenting them. A desire of the people for peace will eventually bring about peace that is essential for higher development of international friendship and commerce.

We Cantonese are trying to make our province a model for others to copy, and a united effort for common defence and home rule will be but a beginning for other equally helpful policy to be later considered and put into practice. We shall not depend on others to bring us the blessing of peace and prosperity, but we shall bring it to ourselves by our own efforts.

U.S. AIRMEN.

DELAY IN DEPARTURE.

Journey Resumed This Forenoon.

"The American fliers left Hongkong at 10.17 this morning." This is the official message which was despatched to-day to Haiphong, where the aviators next alight on their round-the-world flight.

Up to yesterday afternoon hopes were entertained that the airmen would be able to make an early start this morning, but, during an overhaul of one of the machines, a slight defect was revealed, necessitating acetylene welding. This was not completed until last evening and the leader's machine, which had been raised on to the Standard Oil Company's pier for the purpose of having a new pontoon fitted, was not put back into the water until this morning. The propeller of No. 3 machine had been renewed yesterday and everything was not in readiness for a start until about half-past nine o'clock this morning—three hours later than at one time hoped for. The final arrangements, good-byes, etc., were soon got through and by ten o'clock the aviators and their assistants were in their machines.

It was exactly at 10.17 when the leader, Lieut. Lowell Smith, got his machine under way. After skimming the water for some distance, it very gracefully rose, circled round Stonecutter's Island, once and then made off across West Point. No. 4 machine followed immediately and a few minutes later No. 3 went up, all of them making an excellent start. They were soon lost to view, flying low over West Point. There was a fairly strong but steady south-westerly breeze prevailing, an almost clear sky and excellent visibility. Weather conditions between here and Haiphong should be good, and the airmen expect to do the journey in about six hours, arriving at Haiphong between half-past four and five o'clock. As the airmen rose, all the steamers and launches in the vicinity blew farewell blasts on their sirens. Among those present to see them off was the Hon. Captain Superintendent of Police, Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe.

Shortly after the airmen had gone, the American destroyer Paul Jones left for Haiphong and will keep a look out for any of the airmen, should any contingency arise which would force them to descend.

The flight leader, Lieut. Smith, together with Mr. J. A. Shaw, of the Standard Oil Company, called on His Excellency the Governor yesterday afternoon.

The whole of the local arrangements were in the hands of Mr. Shaw, to whom can be extended the heartiest of congratulations for the way things were carried out. To local representatives of the Press, Mr. Shaw was through-out the visit a courteous and a valued source of information and assistance.

Co-operation between Government and the people is necessary to national prosperity. Both the people and the Government should trust each other and labour for the general welfare of the community.

Our successful organisation in Kwangtung should have far-reaching interest. There is no reason why merchants in other parts of China may not do likewise—an organisation impartial and non-political, existing solely for community welfare, deserves public support.

"We are to-day inaugurating a movement for the salvation of China through direct action on the part of the Chinese themselves instead of through the action of the governing dew. We organize to make democracy safe."

Realising shortcomings in every worthy movement at the beginning let us first be patient, steadfast in purpose. We are not for any party but for the good of our people. When we have good of our people, when we have good of our country, when we have good of our world, we shall have good of ourselves.

FRENCH GUNBOAT.

LAUNCHING AT TAIKOO.

The French gunboat Argus was yesterday successfully launched from the Taikoo Dockyard in the presence of a large crowd of interested spectators which included, in addition, to French officers, the Commodore and officers from other foreign naval units in the harbour. The gunboat had been shipped in parts from Europe and assembled at Taikoo. As the gallant little vessel glided down the slipway after receiving its blessing from the Rev. Pere Robert, heads were bared whilst the naval officers present accorded it a salute.

In speech, the Rev. Fr. Robert said that in peace as well as war the Army and Navy should always be employed in the service of Right. And the part which the Argus was destined to perform, in conjunction with their Allies of the Great War, was the safeguarding of material as well as moral rights in distant countries. The Argus was a small vessel, but the flag which floated over it was emblematic of three great things:—The red of the tricolor was that of blood shed in the late war at Dixmude, Verdun and other battlefields where French naval men had fallen; the white was the colour of the lily; and the blue was of the sea on which the Argus would sail.

Commandant Laffargue, Commander of the Argus, said it always gave an officer pleasure to take charge of his vessel. He was very glad to observe the interest which the occasion afforded not only to the French community but also to their Allies as well. In conclusion he returned thanks for their participation in the launching of the boat.

Amongst those present were Mr. G. Reid, Manager of the Yard; the French Consul, and Madame de Tulasne; M. and Mme. Guidon Lavallee; the Messageries Maritimes Agent, and Mrs. Rodenuser; the Manager of Societe Francaise de Garantie and Mme. Durnorin; the Manager of the Banque de l'Indo-Chine, M. Lecot; M. and Mme. Cuvillier, and many other French residents of Hongkong and Canton.

BUS DRIVER FINED.

CARRYING TOO MANY PASSENGERS.

The driver of a bus belonging to the Kowloon Motor Bus Company was fined $5 by Mr. E. W. Hamilton, at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court this morning, for carrying four more passengers than allowed by his licence.

Defendant stated that he did not know there were so many passengers on the bus.

His Worship stated that only two of the Company's servants were allowed on each bus, but there nevertheless always seemed to be a third, who was often speaking to the driver. He requested Sergt. McWalter to inform the managers of the various Companies of the rule requiring only two servants to be carried.

POCKET PICKED.

BRITISH PETTY OFFICER'S LOSS.

A pocket-picking case, in which a British naval petty officer was victimised, has been reported to the police.

Chief Petty Officer J. Morris, of H. M. S. Tamar, who is the victim concerned, reports that he was in Tai Yuen Street at 2.55 on the morning of the 9th instant when he had his pocket picked by a Chinese thief. He lost a wallet which contained a sum of five pounds sterling.

U.S. PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN.

Some of the Probable Candidates.

President Coolidge.

Mr. C. B. Warren.

Gen. C. G. Dawes.

Mr. Theodore Burton.

Governor Smith.

Mr. Herbert Hoover.

The Presidential campaign in the United States is now under way. Above are some of the personalities who will most likely play a leading part therein. President Coolidge is expected to be the sole Republican nominee for the Presidency, whilst Governor Smith of New York will probably be the Democratic choice. The others shown above are mentioned in connection with the Republican nomination for the Vice Presidency.

AMERICAN PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

REPUBLICANS TO RE-NOMINATE MR. COOLIDGE.

CONTROVERSY AS TO VICE PRESIDENT.

(Reuter's Service.)

Cleveland, Ohio, June 9.

The eve of the Republican National Convention is in marked contrast to similar gatherings. The city is filled with politicians representing various States; but no banners are flying at the headquarters of rival candidates nor are pictures of them displayed in the windows or other vantage points. The reason is that Mr. Coolidge appears to be the only candidate, and is likely to be nominated virtually by acclamation.

The only thrills likely to occur will be during the efforts to choose a Vice-President and frame the planks of the party's platform, particularly with regard to the World Court and foreign debt tariff, on which there is considerable divergence of opinion among the party leaders. A number of names of possible Vice-Presidential candidates are mentioned, including General Dawes, Mr. Hoover, Mr. Theodore Burton, the Ambassador to Mexico, and Mr. Charles B. Warren.

NEW MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

Philadelphia, June 9.
The North American publishes an article claiming that Dr. R. G. Glover of Toronto has discovered the cause of cancer; also the treatment of the disease, which though still in the experimental stage is producing remarkable results. Dr. Glover has established that cancer is due to a micro-organism. He has isolated the germ and proved by the Koch cycle laboratory test its part as a causative factor. Dr. Glover's serum, it is stated, has been tested in the past two years in over 200 confirmed cases of cancer in every stage, and in the majority of cases favourable results were secured. Some patients have been discharged free of all symptoms of the disease. —Reuter.

THE PROHIBITION ISSUE.

New York, June 9.
Considerable zest is given to the political situation through the statement which Governor Smith of New York, the avowed democratic candidate for the Presidency, has made on his stand on the "wet" or "dry" issue, in response to an enquiry of the Self-Determination League. Governor Smith said he was opposed to saloons and "hard liquor," but favoured light wines and beer and desired a modification of the Volstead law. He challenged its definition of intoxicants. —Reuter's American Service.

THE RAILWAY STRIKE.

London, June 9.
An Underground Railway communique last evening described the situation as slightly improved. Nine stations reopened during the week-end, and a little over half the normal service is operating. —Reuter.

The railway strike position continues to improve. It is officially announced that except for the Turnham Green, Richmond, section the whole underground system is now working. Numbers of strikers have returned to duty. It is expected that the stations now shut will be opened to-morrow. —Reuter.

HEROIC CADET'S.

Swim From Wreck Amid Jagged Rocks.

A tragic story of the wreck of the German cadet ship, the barque Bohus on the rocks at East Yell, Shetland, was related by the survivors, who reached Aberdeen last month.

The cadets were making the first voyage of their four years' apprenticeship and the vessel was on her first trip under the German mercantile marine flag since she was acquired from the Swedish Government.

First Officer Thiele said the dense fog prevented those in charge of the vessel from being certain of their whereabouts, and the rapid currents of the treacherous coast line coupled with the contrary wind, drove the vessel on to the rocks.

Immediately the Bohus canted over on her side, and the small boats were dashed to pieces in the raging water.

Although a comparatively short distance separated the wreck from the shore, the sharp, jagged rocks and the heavy breakers made any attempt to land fraught with the greatest danger.

Droeg, the steward, was killed when a wave dashed his head against the ship's side.

DEATH LEAP.

Thiele spoke with pride of the heroism of a young cadet named Aborth, whose prowess as a swimmer enabled him to reach a rock on the shore line.

There he sat perched precariously half in and half out of the water, and as his comrades braved the journey he hauled them one by one on to the beach.

In this way he saved four lives; but a huge wave dashed him from his position, and he was drowned.

For over three hours the shipwrecked men, one after another, ventured the desperate passage to safety, their position being rendered all the more precarious as the boat was rapidly breaking up under the pounding of the waves.

The cook became insane, jumped into the sea, and was drowned, and the sailmaker, named Roddig, was lifted by a wave, dashed against a rock, and killed.

By this time people from a small village a few miles distant had assembled on the shore, and, by means of lifelines, the cadets and crew who were still on the ship were hauled ashore.

Two minutes after the captain left the Bohus, broke up and vanished.

The crew praised highly the hospitality of the native islanders.

RACE MEETING.

YESTERDAY'S GOOD SPORT.

There was a large attendance at the Racecourse yesterday when the Whiteside Race Meeting closed. Good sport was provided, but on the whole it was a favourite's day with the result that the pari-mutuel dividends were on the small side. The Sweeps were, however, largely patronised. His Excellency the Governor was again present, and he had the satisfaction of seeing his pony, Gaudie, win the Weston-hanger Stakes. The band of the Surrey Regiment provided a splendid programme of music. The results of the racing were:—

CAN DIAMONDS BE MADE?

Sir Charles Parsons Says "No"

For over twenty years Sir Charles Parsons, famous as the inventor of the turbine engine, has been seeking to solve the mystery of the origin of the diamond, and last week he confessed, at a meeting of the Royal Microscopical Society, that after spending thousands of pounds in his search for a solution he had been forced to the conclusion that the manufacture of artificial diamonds was impossible.

In the last fifty years many eminent scientists have tried to make diamonds in the laboratory, and some have claimed to have succeeded. The late Sir William Crookes, in language anyone could understand, gave the apparently simple formula for manufacturing diamonds when he said that the process consisted simply of dissolving charcoal (or a diamond is just charcoal, or graphite) in a liquid, and waiting for the dissolved substance to separate into crystals by slow evaporation. The ultimate crystals would, he said, be true diamonds. Nature thus transforms carbon into diamonds by subjecting it to enormous pressure and temperature in the earth.

The French chemist, Henri Moissan, subjected carbon to temperatures around 3,600 deg. C., and pressures exceeding fifteen tons to the square inch, the carbon being enclosed in pure iron. The crucible containing the iron and carbon was then plunged into cold water, which had the effect of solidifying the iron, which enclosed the carbon in a giant grip. In this condition the dissolved carbon separated out as hard, transparent crystalline fragments indistinguishable from a true diamond.

But the largest "diamond" Moissan was able to produce was scarcely visible to the naked eye; fifty side by side could be comfortably accommodated in the space of one inch.

Sir William Crookes himself was convinced that Moissan's crystals were true diamonds, and later repeated the French chemist's experiment with similar results. That was eighteen years ago, but since then none of the many that have worked at the problem have succeeded in manufacturing a diamond big enough to compete with the smallest natural diamond. Sir Charles Parsons, after twenty years' labours, has admitted his failure, and he has expressed the opinion that the microscopic crystals obtained by Moissan and Crookes were not diamonds, but carborandum or silicon compounds.

Probably Sir Charles Parsons will now abandon his experiments. But others will continue to seek the solution of the most fascinating problems of chemical science. The quest, however, is enormously costly, and attended by serious risks of explosions that may for ever end the career of some adventurous experimenter. The topaz, amethyst, emerald, and sapphire have all been made artificially, but the chemist has yet to imitate the methods by which Nature, in her laboratory beneath our feet, transforms a piece of black carbon into the most beautiful of all precious stones.

ANCIENT CITY CEMETERY.

Human Bones in Farringdon Road.

During the making of foundations for new buildings in Farringdon-road, London, enormous quantities of human bones have been found.

The site was once occupied by the burial ground belonging to St. Bride's Church, Fleet-street. The original burial ground was on the south side of the church, and abutted on the grounds of the mansion belonging to the Earl of Dorset.

In 1610, the then earl objected to the nearness of a graveyard to his residence, and offered the vicar a site on the banks of the Fleet River, now forming part of the west side of Farringdon-street. This offer was accepted, and the site is now marked on old maps as "Site of disused burial ground of St. Bride's Fleet-street."

At the time of the plague of London the burial ground was rapidly filled up, and as years went on it went out of use, and the land was let for building purposes.

The bones will be reburied by the City sanitary authorities in some suburban cemetery.

IN CEYLON BABY'S OWN TABLETS.

Are Used and Recommend by Many.

"Mr. J. M. Simon Perera, of 1 Stafford Gardens, Colombo, is one of the numerous people who can speak from experience of the efficacy of Baby's Own Tablets as a remedy for the ailments of infants and little children. Mr.
Perera says—

"About a year ago my little niece Rohine suffered from constipation with consequent loss of appetite. Her growth was retarded and she became fretful and weakly. Reading a mother's recommendation of Baby's Own Tablets I bought home a few vials for the child and the Tablets proved to be all that is claimed for them. Her constipation disappeared and her appetite increased, she put on weight and in a very short time was improved almost out of recognition.
We are very thankful for her cure."

Baby's Own Tablets quickly reduce fever, relieve colic, indigestion, cramp and colds, prevent constipation, check diarrhoea, allay teething pains, quiet the nerves, promote health-giving restful sleep, a perfectly natural way. Are guaranteed absolutely safe and harmless. Of chemists, or post free, 60 cents the vial, from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co.

BIRTH.

DENNYS.—On June 10th at the Peak, to Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Dennis, a son.

HONGKONG, 10th June, 1924.

CAMOENS.

To-day is like to be marked in many parts of the world, and by men of many nations, as of special literary significance, for it is the fourth centenary of the birth of Portugal's greatest poet, Luiz Vaz de Camoens. To his countrymen Camoens needs no introduction, and to those who have read translations of his work there will be an almost similar appeal, for the poet was a genius who can rightly take his place among the immortals. It is to be regretted that his work is not as widely known among English readers as it could be, but perhaps this contingency will serve to draw the attention of a greater appreciative public to the well of poetry awaiting their discovery.

Like other famous interpreters of the muse, Camoens had a series of adventures in life during which his emotions were sounded to their depths, but these gave the world some of his best compositions, and verses for every mood. One will always associate the Portuguese of old with the romance of the East—they were the most picturesque adventurers and colonisers of a period when Europe was first knocking at the long-closed doors of India and Cathay. In Camoens we have a romantic figure of a poet and soldier, in voluntary exile from his country, where the inevitable fair lady had entered into the case, wandering about the early empire of the East, and coming in contact with the glamour of the Orient, in those days even more strange and wonderful to behold. That these experiences enriched his poems is evident, and what he lost in peace of mind the world has gained in its collection of gems of literature.

Camoens makes a special appeal in this part of the world because of his associations with Macao, where visitors can see the beautiful grotto that tradition counts his resting place when composing perhaps his most famous work. To residents of that old colony, and to all dwellers in Hongkong with ties in that old-world reminder of sixteenth century enterprise, as in Portugal itself, to-day is a red letter one; but the man whom the occasion recalls has earned the right to be honoured by a far wider public, for genius is international.

Band Concerts.

The Kowloon Residents' Association, which shows commendable enterprise in watching the interests of the people of the peninsula, has already indicated to the Colonel of the Surrey Regiment the desire that, if the battalion's excellent band is to give open-air concerts during the summer months, it would be glad if Kowloon could be included in the arrangements. We have no doubt that the representation will be cordially received in military circles, and we are hoping that before long these band concerts will become a regular feature in the Colony. Up in Shanghai, we notice, the season's symphony concerts by the Municipal Orchestra have ended and are now being replaced by open-air brass band and orchestral performances. How much better off Shanghai is than Hongkong in this regard may be gathered from the fact that during last week the programme included concerts in the Public Gardens on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, at Hongkew Park on Thursday and at Jessfield Park on Saturday. In other words, for five days out of the seven there were open-air concerts provided for the public. That is where the advantage of possessing a Municipal Band comes in. We have not reached that stage yet, but with military and naval bands, as well as local orchestras available, it ought to be no difficult matter to arrange frequent events of the kind in the Colony.

Building Materials.

The fact that another plot of land is to be leased at Castle Peak for the purpose of providing a site for brickworks is a welcome indication of the Government's intention to provide facilities for such an industry here. In the past, this Colony has been far too dependent on outside sources for its supplies of bricks, with the result that during the recent boom very high prices had to be paid for these very essential materials. Anything which will tend to cheapen construction costs here is to be welcomed, for we have an idea that there are interests at work behind the scenes combining to keep prices up. We notice that the Labour Government at Home is introducing a Bill to prevent excessive charges being made for building materials. It will be interesting to see how that legislation works. If it proves of avail, Hongkong might do worse than copy the example set. The control of house rents has been a great benefit, and it would be in the public interest could control be extended to building costs as well. Profit-taking out of a public necessity is morally wrong.

HOME CRICKET.

Cambridge vs. South Africa.

London, June 9.—At Cambridge the match with the South Africans re-opened before two thousand spectators, in fine weather, on an easy wicket. The South Africans scored 334, Nourse contributing 144. Cambridge University replied with 191 (Lowry 67).

The South Africans going in to bat again compiled 130 for 5, when stumpers were drawn.

At Lord's, Sussex beat Middlesex by 194 runs. Sussex in the first innings scored 156 and in the second 183, Haig taking 6 for 79. Middlesex scored 104. Tate taking 7 for 39, and in the second innings 41, A. E. Gilligan taking 8 for 25 and Tate 2 for 13.

Kent beat Hampshire at Southampton by an innings and 109. Kent scored 293, and Hampshire 62. Woolley taking 4 for 30 and Freeman 4 for 16, and in the second inning 122. Mead compiling 72.—Reuter.

Uruguay Comes Out On Top.

Paris, June 9.—In the Olympic Association football final, Uruguay beat Switzerland by 3 goals to nil.

The replay for third place resulted in Sweden beating Holland by 3 goals to one.

Uruguay was a magnificent all-round side, the fast and clever forward line combining like clock-work. They had by far the best of the game, and constantly menaced the Swiss goal, their thrilling whirlwind runs evoking much applause. They scored six minutes from the start, and at half time led by one to nil. They scored again twenty minutes after the restart, and the final goal fifteen minutes later. Desperate Swiss efforts to reduce the lead failed.—Reuter.

The General Labour Guild in Canton is said to have arranged a reception for the 7th instant to the Filipino labourers who have been engaged in connection with removal of the Arsenal plant, but none of the invited guests attended.

There are said to be at present more than ten Mints, controlled by the military, in operation in Canton, turning out 20-cent pieces by melting down old coins at a standard of less than fifty per cent. silver. These coins are now over 20 per cent. discount in relation to Hongkong currency.

An official notice has been issued in Canton rescinding the proposed additional surtax on revenue paid by the pawnbrokers in advance. The strike has therefore been abandoned, but it is said that the pawnbrokers will now ask that no further advances be demanded.

To-night the chief attraction at the Star Theatre is Mack Sennett's great comedy, "The Cross Roads of New York," which achieved marked success when shown in the Coronet Theatre last week. To-morrow night, Mr. William Houghan, the famous Scottish singer, returning from the North on route to Australia, will make his farewell appearance in the Colony.

At the Kowloon Magistracy this morning a Chinese passenger of the s.s. It appears that whilst a search was being made on board the ship the coins were found among defendant's belongings.

Old friends of Lena and Tede Miles will be interested to learn that both are now playing with Robert Courtneidge's company at Home in "The Last Waltz," in which the former (now known as "Bobbee Miles") appears as Anuschka and the latter as Baron Ippolito Mokowitch. A press report speaks of Tede Miles as a comedian new to Britain, who has just returned from the Far East, and says "he is fast winning favour for his quaint eccentricities and agile dancing." This present engagement lasts until October, 1925, after which Mr. Miles hopes to appear at the London Hippodrome, an offer having already been made him to play there.

TWO-MINUTE TALKS A Daily Tonic By ROBERT POWER

MY BEST POLICY.

A policy of insurance is provision for the future. It is advised by prudence. It is the looking ahead with proper foresight to provide for contingencies which may arise unexpectedly.

There are various kinds of policies designed to meet the uncertainties of this life. The risks have been calculated to the minutest degree. The premiums are based upon mortality and other tables which enable the actuaries to calculate the margin of safety in fixing the amounts to be paid in return for receiving certain benefits.

Everybody likes to think they have secured the best policy, whether it be an endowment one, or designed to meet the risks of accident, fire, or burglary. I heard a man saying with considerable complacency: "I have the finest possible policy. It leaves nothing to chance."

But if misfortune overtook that man and his premiums remained unpaid, then Chance would have scored against him. For the benefits would cease to operate and all his prudence would be useless. We know that in all these material contracts the vicissitudes of life may intervene and rule out the expected advantages.

In a higher sense we may say that every act we do has its bearing upon the future. We sow an idle act to-day and to-morrow we may be reaping a habit. We lightly embark upon a course of conduct which may injure our health, and the passing of the years brings its retribution of impaired health or premature old age. We are selfish to those with whom we come in contact, and one day we wake up to the realization that "nobody loves us," that we have no friends, and shiver at the prospect of increasing loneliness.

Let us take out a policy against the future by taking heed to the present. The past is gone for ever. It may be that we cannot look back with much satisfaction to the spent years, but "let the dead past bury its dead." It is the Time we have yet in hand to spend that matters. Let us begin to-day to pay our premium upon a policy which shall make provision for the future.

Not merely in worldly prudence. That is good, but it is not sufficient. By diligence and real industry we may reach prosperity, but if in so doing we have forgotten everybody else, have allowed from the path those who are "gained the whole world" of our desires and missed the higher conception of our duty, what will it profit? It will mean that our policy will be null and void, for no benefit. Just when the need is felt for some support or recompense for the trials of life as the sands run out, then it will be found that the expected benefits are worthless.

Let our actions and words to-day be such as will constitute a sound policy for the vicissitudes of the future. For the words of truth cannot be evaded: "Whoever a man soweth that shall he also surely reap."

CHADWICK RUNNER-UP IN BIG EVENT.

Local boxing circles will be interested to learn of the continued successes of A. B. Chadwick, who was the Featherweight Champion here, and who is so well-known to followers of the fistie art in Hongkong.

As we announced some time ago he has, since returning Home, won the Featherweight Championship of the Royal Navy and Marines, and reports are now to hand of his attempt to annex the title of Imperial Services Featherweight Champion. Having fought several preliminary fights, Chadwick met Marine Davis in the semi-final. A newspaper account of the fight says: "This was a very even affair until the second round, when Davis dropped his man with a crisp left to the jaw. Chadwick rose in better condition than was expected and quickly returned the compliment, sending Davis down for good. It was a dramatic conclusion."

In the final, Chadwick had to meet Sgt.-Instructor W. Hoban, of the Army, and after fighting him for all the distance and putting up a really splendid show, he lost the fight by a narrow margin of points.

These Inter-Services championships are open to the Army, the Royal Navy, the Royal Air Force, and although Chadwick did not succeed in winning, he can be congratulated on being runner-up.

We also learn that Seaman Willoughby, well remembered here, is also doing very well in England.

A FAMOUS PORTUGUESE POET.

Fourth Centenary of the Birth of Camoens.

To-day, occurs the fourth centenary of the birth of Luis de Camoens, Portugal's greatest poet and one of the world's outstanding figures of his time. The event is being marked by celebrations in Portugal, Macao and other Portuguese possessions, whilst this evening the occasion will be locally observed by the holding of a special gathering at the Club Lusitano, Hongkong, a special committee having been appointed to carry through the arrangements.

At Macao, there will be a special pilgrimage to the famous Camoens' Grotto, the spot where, according to tradition, the great poet sheltered from the tropical sun whilst he wrote portions of his epic, the "Lusiadas." Here all who make the pilgrimage will pay silent tribute to the genius of Camoens, and later speeches extolling his greatness will be delivered.

At this evening's reception at the Club Lusitano, speeches will be delivered extolling the life and work of the great poet, amongst the speakers being the Consul General for Portugal (who is Chairman of the special Celebrations Committee), Mr. A. F. B. Silva Netto (President of the Club) and others.

HIS EARLY LIFE.

Luis Vaz de Camoens, who was born in 1524 and died in 1580, was the most celebrated of Portuguese poets. He was descended from an ancient noble and wealthy house, and belonged to one of the highest ranks of society. The exact place of his birth is disputed, but it is almost certain that he was born at Lisbon. By this time the full flood of the Renaissance was making itself felt in Europe, and among other countries Portugal was benefiting from the desire for further and fuller knowledge which seemed at this time to fill all men. Camoens was educated at the college of All Saints at Coimbra and steeped himself in the literature and mythology of the classics. He had an excellent memory, and little that he learnt was ever forgotten. His education, however, proceeded on very general lines, and there was practically no subject upon which he was not able to speak with some authority. He knew well the contemporary literatures of Spain and Italy, he had read much history and altogether we can say that his great poems give evidence of his universal knowledge. He came then to Lisbon, which city made a firm and lasting impression on him, an impression which in his great poem he immortalised. He found easy entrance into the highest society and he quickly came to be recognised as a poet of no mean talent. In 1544 he fell violently in love with Catherine de Ataides, the daughter of a high official at court. This lady was the inspiration of many of his most impassioned sonnets, and has been aptly described as his Beatrice. He was introduced at court, and here whilst he made many friends he also made enemies, and his too open passion quickly became a matter of gossip.

FORCED INTO EXILE.

He left the court, but his voluntary exile was restless; the verses which he wrote at this time show him to be now exuberant, now in the deepest depths of despair. Many of his sonnets and roundels were written at this time, and from this period also dates the greater number of his elegies. He was now also employed in the composition of his great patriotic poem, the "Lusiadas," but his love affairs were still unsettled, and he was finally forced into exile, which was hastened by the production of "El Rei Solenico." In his place of exile he composed "The Elegy of Exile," and a number of beautiful sonnets. He now became a soldier, and in 1574 we find him in Ceuta, where he remained for the next two years still pouring forth verses, some despairing and sad, others philosophical; he himself seems to have been buoyed up by the memories of the past.

In 1549 he prepared to go to India, and for that purpose he returned to Lisbon; once there he found it impossible to drag himself away, and he remained to be near his love. But he indulged at this time in wild extravagances which finally landed him in prison, was pardoned, and proceeded to India. He sailed in 1553. In some poems he describes the voyage, which probably was not without its influence on the "Lusiadas," since after this date the discovery of India became the main theme. The Portuguese were at this time dominant in the East, and although Camoens was well received, his life at Goa was not without its influence on the "Lusiadas." He did not, however, stay at Goa but travelled to many places in the East, usually to perform some military duty. He wrote whilst there "Desesperates na India," "Filodemo," and "Satyra do Torneo." He had made some little fortune, but now fortune turned against him.

IMPRISONED FOR INTRIGUE.

After waiting at Macao for a ship to take him back to India, he was imprisoned for intrigue, and he was shipwrecked whilst being brought back a prisoner to India. He managed to save his "Lusiadas," but remained a prisoner at Cambodia, where he composed his famous "By the Waters of Babylon." Still a prisoner, he was taken back to Goa, where he heard for the first time of the death of Catherine. It was on this occasion that he produced his famous sonnet "Alma Minha Gentil." He remained a prisoner for some time, being finally released when a friend of his became Governor, and again for a short time he was imprisoned for debt. He was very poor, but seems to have remained in India living a fairly happy life and working at his

FORECAST OF M. MILLERAND'S MENAGE.

Interference Deprecated.

Paris, June 9.
According to a semi-official forecast, M. Millerand's message to Parliament will be briefly a review of events since the assumption by him of the Presidency, recalling that the President invariably pursued a policy of social progress and agreement at home and abroad, and that all the Cabinets to which he has entrusted power have been coalition ones in which the Left parties have participated. He will declare that his attitude has always conformed to the constitutional prerogative, and will point out that the new majority has made it impossible for the head of the State to exercise his mandate, such interference being inadmissible.

The message will assert that subordination of the powers of the Head of the State to electoral fluctuations would result in creating a precedent fraught with incalculable consequences, and conclude by stating that Parliament alone can decide the question of the Presidency. Reuter.

MOTOR CYCLIST IN TROUBLE.

FINED ON TWO CHARGES.

At the Police Court, this afternoon, Mr. J. Mason, of the Naval Yard, was charged with recklessly riding his motor cycle in Queen's Road on the 2nd instant, and with riding in a prohibited area (Hollywood Road) on the following day.

It was stated that defendant was riding his cycle at 20 miles an hour on the 2nd instant at a time when workmen were coming out of the Naval Yard.

Defendant said, in regard to the first charge, that he had no speedometer on his machine, and, in regard to the second stated that he did not know that Hollywood Road was a prohibited area.

Fines of $5 on each charge were imposed.

great poem. For three years he was thus employed and finally the poem was finished, and his ambition became to go back to Portugal and print it.

RETURN TO PORTUGAL.

In 1567, he got as far as Mozambique, but here again he was imprisoned for debt for two years, and finally by the charity of friends he was released from prison and sailed for home. He reached Portugal in 1570. He found his mother ready to welcome him; his father was dead, and now, having regained his home, he set about obtaining permission to print his poem. Permission was given in 1571, and the book appeared. It was received with acclamation by everybody. Praises poured into him from everywhere. He was granted a substantial pension for three years, a period which was later extended, and he lived for a time in peace and enjoyment.

A VICTIM TO PLAGUE.

In 1575 he fell, for a short time, into helpless poverty once more, but the removal of his pension soon set him right again. In 1578, came the disaster of the battle of Alcacer, and Camoens mourned the loss of his patron and king, Sebastian, in a magnificent sonnet. Early in 1580, the cardinal king died, and Camoens, who saw what he feared was the vanishing of Portuguese independence, had no further desire to live. In June of the same year the last of a great and illustrious line fell a victim to the plague which was ravaging Portugal. His greatest work was the "Lusiadas," the author of which has been aptly termed the Virgil of Portugal. It has for its main theme the discovery of India and the greatness of Lusitania.

DANGEROUS BLASTING.

FOREMAN FINED $100.

The foreman of a contractor's firm carrying on blasting operations near the Orient Tobacco Factory was charged before Mr. E. W. Hamilton, at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, with failing to cover over and weigh down with sufficient timber, certain stones which were to be blasted, to prevent fragments from being projected into the air. Mr. E. Boleino stated that on the 16th May, at about 5 p.m., blasting was going on at the vacant ground near the Factory. After the workpeople of the Factory had finished work, witnesses received a report from the watchman. Witnesses went out and saw a number of stones lying about. The police were then sent for. The stones were inside the factory wall.

Defendant stated that he did not know what had happened, except that his folks were working at the place.

A large number of guests were present at the wedding of Miss Florence Maude ("Lollie") White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. White of Shanghai, to Mr. Thomas Austin Cooper at St. Joseph's Church, Shanghai.

Professor Timothy A. Smiddy, former head of the economics department of Cork University, Ireland, who may be first Minister of the Irish Free State to America.

Mr. A. N. Dallas, on Messrs. Day and Toeg's bay Columbia, the winner of the Champion Sweepstakes at Shanghai this year, is shown in the above picture.

A pretty wedding was solemnized by the Very Rev. Dean Symonds at Holy Trinity Cathedral Shanghai, when Mrs. Margaret E. Bellamy was married to Mr. Roger Charles Bell.

The Glen Line vessel Glenamer went ashore in a thick fog at Yicko Island, one of the Chusan group, on Sunday, May 11, while on her way to Shanghai from Hongkong. Efforts have since been to refloat her, but it is thought she is badly holed. Our picture shows the vessel with the rocks lowering behind her. The picture was taken from a lifeboat, but some one leaning over the side obstructed the view of the ship's bow.

The Yoshiwara Pond, where 600 were burned to death in the Japanese earthquake, always will remain a place of sacred pilgrimage. A fence has been built around it.

Our Portrait is of Mrs. M. MACE, of 27, Brixton Lane, Bournemouth, England, who writes:-

"For 8 years I suffered with a terrible wound stretching from the abdomen to the right hip; during that time I tried doctors and patent medicines innumerable, but without success. At length
I was persuaded to try Clarke's Blood Mixture, and after taking the first bottle began to see an improvement, which has continued, with the result that my wound is healed and I now have no pain. I am writing this testimony so that other sufferers like myself may have the benefit of your marvellous medicine." In a further recent letter, nearly two years later, Mrs. Mace writes: "I am happy to say that there has been no recurrence of my complaint, and consider my cure a very satisfactory
cure."

From Dr. Leg. Abbotson, U.S.A.,
Sufferers from Leg. Abbotson, U.S.A., Ecema, Scall, Pimples, Eruptions, Rheumatism, Gout, should realize that toxins and climatic can but give temporary relief—to be sure of complete and lasting benefit, the blood must be thoroughly cleansed of the impure waste matter, the true cause of such troubles. Clarke's Blood Mixture quickly attacks, overcomes, and eradicates the impurities, that is why so many remarkable recoveries stand to its credit. Pleasant to take and free from injurious ingredients.

Of all Dealers—see that you get

MODERN MAGIC.

The Value of Germs.

Some recent calculations suggest that the germs of certain diseases may be very much smaller than was at one time supposed.

Indeed, it would scarcely be an exaggeration, keeping these calculations and researches in mind, to say that they may be so small as to be non-existent.

Their existence, however, is only too certain, writes a contributor to the Daily Chronicle.
Lately an attempt was made to discover the quality in the tar possessing this effect.

The conclusion would seem to be that it is a quality strictly comparable—in respect of its smallness—with the vitamins
and the poisons of the tiny germs
—a quality, that is to say, which scarcely exists at all.

As compared with sensitiveness of this sort—the sensitiveness of the animal body the most exquisitely delicate scientific instruments are as clumsy as the proverbial cart wheel.

Indeed, it would seem that most of our drugs more closely resemble the club of a savage than, at one time, many of us were disposed to think. To an organism as sensitive as your body or mine a dose of, say, castor oil, must represent something rather like an earthquake.

SOMETHING NOBODY KNOWS.

But what are those vitamins?

Nobody knows. All we can be sure about is that they are infinitely small in amount—"so small as scarcely to have any existence," as a lecturer stated recently.

In view of these facts, the old-time sneers at "homoeopathic doses" of medicine rather lose their point. Nature, it would seem, is a confirmed homoeopath.

Again, it has been known for some time that cancer can be produced by painting tar on the skins of both animals and men.
Lately an attempt was made to
discover the quality in the tar
possessing this effect.

The conclusion would seem to be that it is a quality strictly comparable—in respect of its
smallness—with the vitamins
and the poisons of the tiny germs
—a quality, that is to say, which
scarcely exists at all.

TERROR FOR TENNIS "STARS."

Master Austin and "Baby" Nuthall.

There is a fresh terror for lawn tennis "stars" this year—the fear of being defeated by H. W.
Austin, aged 17, and Betty Nuthall, who is just 12, writes
Alan E. Norman in a Home paper.

One has never seen such a spectacle on the English courts as was witnessed at Roehampton, when O. G. N. Turnbull, a veritable giant, and Mrs. Edgington were matched by young Austin and "Baby" Nuthall.

How the child of 12 stood up to one of the speediest service deliveries and drove the ball back almost as fast! How she engineered for position and then whipped the ball past Turnbull—an "international player"—down his side line!

Crowds thronged around the court, laughed, cheered, and laughed again—it was all so unbelievable. Betty provided openings and Austin smashed finely.
Ball after ball was deftly steered past Turnbull's racket.

The winners were thoroughly frightened when they lost the second set at 2-6, but Turnbull just managed to get the upper hand at the net and he and his partner won, with the score 6-4, 2-6 and 6-2.
